

Sébastien Maillard

Special Advisor, Enlargement

Sébastien Maillard was a journalist at La Croix, where he recently covered the campaign of Emmanuel Macron. Previously correspondent of the daily in Brussels and then in Rome, he made numerous reportages across the continent.

He is a specialist in European affairs that he taught at Sciences Po (Paris) and Boston College. He is also involved in various actions for Europe (EuropaNova, Comece, Robert Schuman House), and wrote What We Have made of Europe? (edited by Salvator, 2013). He is also the co-author of Faire l'Europe dans un monde de brutes with our president, Enrico Letta, published in September 2017. He was the Director of the Jacques Delors Institute from 2017 to 2023. Since September 2023, he is Special Advisor for the Center Grande Europe on Enlargement.
