

Thibault Paulet

Former intern research assistant. Economic and social affairs

Thibault Paulet holds a bachelor degree in economy at the university Lumière Lyon 2. During her economics sciences Bachelor's exchange year, he studied a year at the Sherbrooke University in Canada where he continued her training as an economist. He is currently studying a Master "Macroeconomics and European Policy" at the University of Strasbourg where he specialized on European economic governance.

Thibault is also involved in the Young Europeans, a transpartisan and transeuropean society which seeks to promote democratic debate among European citizens, since 2013.

Bibliographie

Sofia Fernandes , Thibault Paulet , "What political lessons should we learn from the Troika experience?", Other document, Paris, Institut Jacques Delors, 10/06/2014

Sofia Fernandes , Thibault Paulet , "Adjustment programmes in the euro area: mission accomplished?", Other document, Paris, Institut Jacques Delors, 22/05/2014