

Invitation

Will Europeans ever be allowed to voice a considered opinion?

Will EU leaders forever talk over citizens' heads?

To mark the launch of Tomorrow's Europe, the first-ever EU-wide Deliberative Poll®, we invite you to debate with

Valéry Giscard d'Estaing

Former chairman of the European Convention on the Future of Europe

Giuliano Amato

Italian Interior minister, former vice-chairman of the European Convention on the Future of Europe

Margot Wallström

Vice-president of the European Commission

Pr James S. Fishkin, Pr Robert C. Luskin

Stanford University (USA)

Marc-André Allard

TNS Sofres

Stephen Boucher, Henri Monceau

Tomorrow's Europe

Moderator:

John Lloyd, journalist, contributing editor at the Financial Times

WHEN?

Monday 17 September 07

18:00 – 20:30

Including cocktail reception

WHERE?

Bibliothèque Solvay

Parc Léopold Rue Belliard 137
1040 Bruxelles

WHY?

There is much talk about involving citizens, but do we really know how?

Tomorrow's Europe is the last Plan D initiative and arguably the most ambitious and rigorous social experiment.
