

Policy and Research Officer (environmental policy)

Full-time, Brussels

Europe Jacques Delors is hiring a full time (38h/week), Brussels-based Research and Policy Officer (f/m/div) for October 2020.

Europe Jacques Delors (AISBL) is a new Brussels-based think tank, which was created in early 2020 in addition to the Jacques Delors Institute in Paris (*1996) and the Jacques Delors Center Berlin (*2014). United by a common theme - Penser l'Europe, Europa denken, Thinking Europe - the three think tanks aim to contribute to the debate on the European integration in line with Jacques Delors' vision and legacy.

Your tasks:

1. Conduct research on the European Union's climate and/or environmental policies with the aim of developing and realising a new publication series. Possible angles include
 - o The ocean-climate-nexus
 - o The greening of the Common Agricultural Policy (CAP)
 - o The transition towards a circular economy
 - o The protection and conservation of biodiversity.
2. Communication and organisation of events.
3. Administrative support and office development.

Your profile:

- Master diploma in the field of European politics, international relations, environmental studies, or law.
- Advanced knowledge of the European Union and its long-term agenda, the European Green Deal.
- At least 12 months (including internships) of prior work experiences in an international environment; experiences in the think tank world are considered an asset.
- Full professional proficiency in English and French; German is considered an advantage.
- Proven research, analytical as well as organisational skills.
- A strong spirit of initiative and an ability to work both autonomously and in a team.

The position is limited to a duration of 12 months, with the possibility to extend the contract. Please send your application (CV, Cover letter) to info@europejacquesdelors.eu by 31 August, 2020.
