

FUNDACIÓN ICO WORKSHOP-SEMINAR
The role of National Promotional Banks (NPBs) in climate finance

Objective: To determine priority fields and instruments where NPBs can play an active role to promote the EU energy transition, and notably the EU 2030 climate and energy targets.

Format: The seminar will be held in English and under Chatham House Rule.

Organized by: Fundación ICO

Date: 23 May 2018

Venue: ICO, C/Los Madrazo 36-38, (Madrid)

PROGRAM

09:30-10:00 Attendees reception

10.00-10.10 Welcome remarks by Pablo Zalba, Chairman, ICO

10:10-11:10 Session 1: Perspectives on the EU energy and climate transition

Chair: Simone Tagliapietra, Research Fellow, Bruegel

The EU 2030 climate and energy framework: an overview

Thomas Pellerin-Carlin, Research Fellow, European Energy Policy, Jacques Delors Institute

A perspective from Madrid

Lara Lázaro Touza, Director, Energy Program, Real Instituto Elcano

A perspective from the energy industry

Miguel Ángel Muñoz Rodríguez, Head of Climate Policies, Iberdrola

(15 min./speaker + 15 min. discussion)

11:10-12:10 Session 2: The role of NPBs in climate finance

Chair: Alessio Terzi, Affiliate Fellow, Bruegel

Private and public financing in climate finance

Christine Grüning, Senior Project Manager, Frankfurt School-UNEP

NPBs and climate finance: the experience of ICO

TBD, ICO

NPBs and climate finance: the experience of Bpifrance
TBD, Bpifrance

NPBs and climate finance: the experience of KfW
Dominik Bach, Liaison Office to the EU, KfW

(10-15 min./speaker + 15 min. discussion)

12.10 – 13:00 Light Lunch

DRAFT